1. & 2. Source: Platinum for PIF returns and Factset Research Systems for MSCI returns. Investment returns are calculated using PIF's NAV unit price (i.e. exclude a buy/sell spread), and represent the combined income and capital returns in the specified period. All returns are pre-tax, net of fees and costs and assume the reinvestment of distributions. The returns are calculated relative to the MSCI All Country World Net Index in A$. The investment returns depicted in the graph are cumulative on A$20,000 invested in PIF since inception (30 April 1995). Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future returns. Platinum does not invest by reference to the weightings of the index. The index is provided as a reference only.

3. The "Long %" is PIF's exposure to long securities and long securities/index derivative positions, the "Short %" is PIF's exposure to short securities and short securities/index derivative positions and the "Net %" is the difference between the "Long %" and the "Short %", each as a percentage of the market value of PIF's portfolio. The "Currency %" is the effective currency exposure of PIF's portfolio as a percentage of the market value of its portfolio, taking into account long and short securities, cash, forwards and long and short securities/index derivative positions. For the "Industry breakdown", index positions (whether through ETFs or derivatives) are only included under the relevant sector if they are sector specific, otherwise they are included under "Other".

3. and 4. Country classifications for securities reflect Bloomberg's "country of risk" designations, and currency classifications for securities reflect the relevant local currencies of our country classifications.

4. The "Top ten positions" show PIF's top ten long securities positions as a percentage of the market value of PIF's portfolio (including long securities and long securities derivative positions).

MARKET UPDATE AND COMMENTARY

This commentary relates to the underlying fund, the Platinum International Fund.

- The Fund fell 1.0% for the month. This brings the one-year return to a solid 11.3% - broadly in line with the market*.
- The net invested position remains near historical averages.
- Looking forward, there are exciting opportunities on the long side, but we remain wary of further market weakness.

Market Commentary

Choppy trading dominated markets again this month. Global equity markets edged higher overall, despite mounting concerns on the economic front. The media focused largely on the US debt ceiling, which thankfully seemed to be resolved near the close of the month, but this was largely viewed as a noisy sideshow. The only clear move, as seen in the previous month, was the market continuing to favour large technology stocks on a potential AI revolution. Talk continued around this emerging theme, with the loudest argument being a “winner takes most” mentality in the form of barriers to entry being large in terms of intellectual property, capital required and established industry relationships (favouring the mega-cap names as they are the only ones that could afford such investment). We would caution that this could simply be the echoes of one of the great bubbles in market history, amid narrow market breadth and an oncoming recession. We continue to avoid trying to predict which direction the overall market is heading and instead look for attractively valued idiosyncratic business opportunities to invest capital in over the medium to long term.

The further crowding into large technology stocks signals to us a lack of conviction in the current rally and that investors are back hiding in mega-cap ‘safe’ names as the outlook remains uncertain. The S&P 500 still trades at a very high valuation multiple relative to history, and we continue to think there are much better investment opportunities to be found elsewhere.

We continue to believe that volatility will return as the decades-long easy money regime normalises. We expect much more divergent markets over the course of 2023, as a complex and uncertain environment creates mispricing in equities. We think this is a great market for active, ‘true’ investors.

Our net exposure remains at around 71% as we analyse various investing opportunities. We continue to buy stocks that we think offer good value and remain excited by opportunities across decarbonisation, semiconductors, travel, Chinese consumers, financials, and growth industrials. Our short book remains dynamic and aims to protect capital. The composition of the short portfolio continues to have less emphasis on highly valued growth names and more on COVID beneficiaries (e.g. retailers, e-commerce, logistics) that we expect will have weak earnings outcomes in the year ahead.

Performance Analysis

For the month, our biggest contributors were InterGlobe Aviation (Indian airline), Samsung Electronics (Korean semiconductor manufacturer) and Suzano (Brazilian paper and pulp manufacturer). While providing a strong contribution to performance over the year, our Chinese positions detracted from performance over the month (Ping An Insurance, ZTO Express, China Overseas Land & Investment), as lacklustre economic numbers disappointed those playing for a short-term reopening trade. We still see China in the early stages of its recovery and continue to believe that China is a much-unloved stock market. We remain confident in the Chinese businesses we hold. China remains in a different part of its economic cycle from economies in the West, and the government is taking clear steps to stimulate the economy.

For the calendar year to date (CYTD) our long positions contributed 7.9% to the Fund’s return, while our short positions detracted 2.4%. The Fund’s CYTD return was driven by a broad array of long positions, with our industrials and travel names being the standouts (MinebeaMitsumi, Wizz Air, Airbus). Semiconductor names have also been solid contributors (Samsung Electronics, Micron, Infineon Technologies, Microchip), benefiting from the excitement over AI.

Valuation

The portfolio’s aggregate valuation metrics are attractive in both an absolute sense and relative to the market, with a 40% higher starting earnings yield and a 38% discount on an asset basis (see table below).

Metric	Platinum International Fund	MSCI AC World Net Index (A$)
NTM Earnings Yield	9.1% (Price-to-Earnings ratio of 11x)	6.5% (Price-to-Earnings ratio of 15.3x)
NTM Dividend Yield	3.3%	2.8%
NTM Enterprise Value-to-Sales	1.3x	1.6x
LTM Price-to-Book Ratio	1.6x	2.6x

The valuations in the table have been calculated by Platinum and for the Fund refer to the long portion of the portfolio, exclude negative net earnings and use FactSet consensus earnings. As at 31 May 2023. NTM = next twelve months. LTM = last twelve months.
